OYSTERS SOLD ON THE STREETS ARE INSPECTED

Nothing to the Sensational Story Intended to Prejudice Housewives Against Oyster Peddlers.

Sensational stories about the danger to housewives of the oysters sold on the streets from the Mexican peddlers are pure tommy and there exists not the slightest danger in purchasing oysters from street vendors. If purchasers but use the same precaution they would in buying oysters from the stands, in substance a statement made to the caller yesterday by City Health Officer Kaffie.

Dr. Kaffie pointed out that the city requires that all of the peddlers use a container for oysters only porcelain-lined buckets, and that no ice be in the buckets. The city health department inspectors very quickly find out whether or not oysters offered for sale are of the best condition and if not the oysters are confiscated and the peddlers charged with selling impure food.

For many years, Mexican peddlers selling oysters have been a familiar sight on the streets of Corpus Christi and many believe that the oysters that they sell are as fresh and frequently at prices that are cheaper than if bought from the big dealers.

FARMERS URGED TO BRING SEED CORN FOR TESTING

Prof. Harrington November 2, Will Make the Tests for the Farmers Free of All Costs.

All farmers desiring to test new kinds of seed corn will please notify the Corpus Christi National Bank immediately. The test will be conducted by Prof. H. H. Harrington, Agricultural Director of the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico Railway, ex-president of the State Agricultural College.

Farmers who will test seed corn are requested to select 100 ears of corn, put them in a sack with a shipping tag with their name and address plainly marked thereon, and bring them to the Corpus Christi Commercial Club rooms, where the testing trays are located. Farmers are requested to be at the Commercial Club room early on Tuesday, November 2nd.

If testing your seed corn you will be able to plant all tested seed, and results of testing seed corn prove you can increase your yield very materially per acre. The Nueces county farmers who have already tested their seed corn are very well satisfied with the results. The bank would like to see at least one hundred farmers come in during your boys with you.

SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS AND BUFFALO BILL'S WILD WEST HERE TODAY

ELEVEN ACRES OF TENTS TO BE SPREAD NEAR UNION DEPOT FOR BIG PERFORMANCES TO BE GIVEN THIS AFTERNOON AT TWO AND TONIGHT AT 8:00 O'CLOCK—PARADE THROUGH DOWNTOWN SECTION THIS MORNING AT 10:30 O'CLOCK

SEATS WILL BE ON SALE AT THE C. C. BOOK STORE

Today is Circus Day! For the first time in the history of Corpus Christi a real-barn-to-goodness circus is to visit the city, and to give two exhibitions, the first this afternoon starting at 2 o'clock and the evening performance starting at 8 o'clock. The Sells-Floto Circus and Buffalo Bill's Wild West with Colonel Cody (Buffalo Bill) himself, is the double-bill appearing under one tent that covers eleven acres of ground.

Corpus Christi in the many years past has not been favored by circus people for the reason that there was no thought that the children and grown-ups too for that matter, would refuse to enter the circus tents. Perhaps the thought for today's children will be in demand and the men or women who cannot scrape up with a child of their own or relations will take the neighborhood for some youngsters, to have an excuse for the adult attention since upon the performance.

Further has Corpus Christi been named the big show in just years for the reason that it is just 128 miles from Corpus Christi to a big city and the jump has been too expensive to the shows. This year however the Sells-Floto-Buffalo-Bill combination has topped the cap and the itinerary is Houston, Victoria, Corpus Christi, Laredo, Brownsville, San Antonio, New Orleans and then into Waxahatchee, Texas and New Mexico. On November 28 the show will conclude its season and will go to Denver for winter quarters.

Such cooperative press-agents as J. Hunter, Elyse Cooper, Major Duran and James McElroy have secured the Caller that the big show is visiting Corpus Christi today in the greatest show on earth. It is certain that South Texas can visit today's exhibition and be assured of getting their money's worth.

Three trains, forty double-cars in all, will reach the city at three o'clock this morning from Victoria over the Pecos road and the tents will be pitched on the grounds immediately northwest of the Union Depot. The parade to start at 10:30 this morning will be headed by Buffalo Bill and will traverse all of the downtown business section.

Announcement is made that extra street cars will be in service throughout the day.

Colonel W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) today marks his first visit to Corpus Christi. He will lead the parade this morning.

CITY WILL RETAIN TWO LINES OF PIPE FOR WATER SUPPLY

SAFETY FIRST AND LOWER INSURANCE KEY RATES CAUSES RETAINING OF OLD LINE

Council is Asked to Enforce Fire Escape Law—Weekly Meeting of the City Council Held Friday.

Corpus Christi is to have an auxiliary pipe-line to the city from Galveston, from where water is pumped across the Nueces river and should by any mishap the new works should not be placed out of commission for a few hours or longer the city will have the old means to rely on. An added advantage will be that by having the two lines ready for service the city will gain a material reduction in the fire insurance key-rate that will save property owners several thousand dollars yearly.

Should Retain Line.
City Engineer Stevens yesterday told the council that the old line which has been underground for twenty years should, in his opinion, remain as "the pipe would be practically worthless if dug up and the new attempted elsewhere. He recommended that one of the two in the La Vergne machine now in use at the relay plant, eight miles from the city, remain and the second be moved to the Galveston plant.

Under such a plan the city will have two sources of Galveston, one at the relay and two at the relay plant, thus bringing water to the city, sufficient to supply a city five times as large as Corpus Christi with an abundance of pure filtered water. The recommendation was adopted by the Council.

Fire Escape Law.
The Council received through the City Building Inspector a letter from the state fire marshal in which he stated that under the construction of the law, four buildings in the city are not equipped with fire escapes as required the law being the City Hall, City National Bank, Commercial Club building on Scholard street, and the Locksmith building. Mr. Kline advised that arrangements have already been made for placing the escapes on the Locksmith building, such arrangements being made before the letter from the state fire marshal was received.

The council decided to ask the corporation of the city attorney to file a motion before the court to enforce the fire escape law, and to ask the city engineer to see that the law is enforced within the city limits. The motion was referred to the official.

City Expenditures.
The council heard a communication from Mayor Miller stating that each commissioner has made an effort at his command to keep the expenditures for the year within the budget allotment. The communication was accompanied by a report of the department expenditures for the first half of the fiscal year, which ended last August 31.

Mayor Miller called attention to the fact that the city is now trying to increase the amount of the city fund by a new well in the Atlantic Park but to secure these improvements the city departments must be considered with the closest economy.

Attending the session were Mayor Miller, Commissioners Ward, Collins and Sutherland.

Workman in Store Room Was Overcome by Gases
Felix Gutierrez Overcome While Working in Bailey-Hale Warehouse

While working in the basement room of the Bailey-Hale Company warehouse yesterday afternoon, Felix Gutierrez was overcome with the gases from a charcoal furnace and for some time lay unconscious. Charcoal was being burned in the room to ripen bananas when the accident occurred.

Gutierrez had the presence of mind to make his way out of the room to a front platform. When he reached the platform he fell to the floor unconscious. When the firemen found him he was lying on the floor. He was taken to the hospital where he is recovering.

Outdoors quickly removed from the effect of the gases and the use of the pulmotor was not required.
